NEVARIS ACTION HEROS Event Series Successfully Concluded

Bremen, July 19, 2023 - The construction software specialist NEVARIS looks back with satisfaction on its "NEVARIS Action Hero Events". A total of 160 participants attended the four events in Bremen, Wülfrath, Stuttgart and Elixhausen. The focus was always on the software users: They are the true heroes of the industry and were able to demonstrate their skills and nerves of steel in adrenaline-filled action events. Depending on the location, a cross-country and steep-curve drive in a Mercedes-Benz off-road vehicle, an off-road tour through a quarry in a Land Rover, tee-off training in golf or an impressive virtual reality experience were the special highlights of the extraordinary full-day events.

The concept behind the multi-part series of events, which took place in this form for the first time, was to establish a relaxed platform for constructive discussions, communication - and definitely also fun. The packed day program offered the invited customers above all the opportunity to enter into an open and friendly dialog with each other and with the software experts from NEVARIS/123erfasst, Bluebeam, Allplan, EasiControl and DL Data. The physical well-being was also taken care of throughout the day.

In informative keynote presentations, various speakers provided expert background information on planning and building in the digital age. Because the construction industry is changing sustainably and error-prone analog processes are being replaced by efficient digital processes. NEVARIS stands for this change as well as the solution providers who accompanied the company at the four events.

"This series of events offered the great opportunity to meet personally with our customers outside of day-to-day business and to discuss the current challenges as well as our joint opportunities and potentials in intensive talks. In addition, there was enough room for open and very constructive feedback directly from users, which will help us to better address the needs and requirements of our customers in the future."

Bluebeam and NEVARIS Managing Director Ruth Schiffmann was present at all events to share strategy insights and to engage in direct exchange with customers. Afterwards, she draws her personal, positive conclusion: "This series of events offered the great opportunity to meet personally with our customers outside of the daily business and to discuss the current challenges as well as our joint opportunities and potentials in intensive conversations. In addition, there was enough room for open and very constructive feedback directly from users, which will help us to respond even better to the needs and requirements of our customers in the future."

The very good mix of informative presentations and direct exchange between customers, NEVARIS employees and partner software companies was rated as very positive by all. The successful event format is now to be continued beyond 2023.
