New version of NEVARIS Build presented

Bremen, October 20, 2022 - Construction software manufacturer NEVARIS presents NEVARIS Build 2023, the new version of its construction software. An important extension is NEVARIS Regie as an independent application area in the program: It enables fast and uncomplicated invoicing without project reference - i.e. even if the project was not previously created in NEVARIS Build.

NEVARIS Build 2023 with the new application area NEVARIS Regie facilitates the processing and, above all, the invoicing of construction tasks for which no project or order with stored specifications exists in NEVARIS Build. This should enable all users to create invoices as simply, quickly and uncomplicatedly as possible.

In addition, with a complete overview of all control room processes, users can track and view all processes for a control room invoice at any time. The invoice dialog in NEVARIS Regie is based on the layout of the invoice, so that the creation of a new control room invoice is largely intuitive and takes place in the familiar view.

Application examples for NEVARIS Regie

NEVARIS Regie gives users of the powerful construction software the possibility to invoice deliveries and services that do not have to be directly related to NEVARIS Build. In addition, small construction orders can now be invoiced very easily and efficiently, for example on the basis of itemized bills from private clients. NEVARIS Regie also allows invoicing for resales - from the company's inventory (used car sales, machine sales) or from its own warehouse (material sales from the company's own inventory).

NEVARIS Build 2023 has been available since October 12, 2022. For further information on the NEVARIS product portfolio, please visit the NEVARIS website: www.nevaris.com.
