Vectorworks, Inc. Named a Finalist in 2022 Hammers Awards

Columbia, MD (September 27, 2022) – Global design and BIM software provider Vectorworks, Inc. is pleased to earn five nominations in the 2022 Construction Computing Awards. This year, in addition to being named a finalist in the BIM, architectural design and company recognition categories, Vectorworks is also being recognized for its achievements in innovation and sustainability.

In its 17th year, the Construction Computing Awards, also known as “The Hammers,” historically showcase and reward the technology, tools and solutions for the effective design, construction, maintenance and modification of commercial buildings, residential and social housing and civil engineering projects of all sizes. The 2022 awards emphasize the importance of maintaining the pace of technological change while reducing carbon emissions, delivering electrification of the transport system and building smarter cities.

“It’s an incredible honor to be a finalist in this year’s categories and to be recognized for our sustainability and innovation efforts,” said Vectorworks Senior Sales Director Adrian Slatter. “Quality enhancements and developments are driving factors when it comes to our BIM and design software, and these nominations are a great reminder for us to continue to deliver the best.”

Vectorworks is nominated in the following categories:

- BIM Software of the Year: Vectorworks Architect
- Architectural Design Software of the Year: Vectorworks Architect
- Company of the Year: Vectorworks, Inc.
- Innovation of the Year: Vectorworks, Inc. for the Vectorworks Embodied Carbon Calculator (VECC)
- Sustainability Project of the Year: Studio Partington with Vectorworks Architect for Golden Lane Estate

“As the world changes, designers need software that provides them with a straightforward way to get involved in the effort to reduce carbon emissions and combat climate change,” said Luka Stefanovic, senior architecture industry specialist at Vectorworks and creator behind the VECC.

“Sustainability, innovation and creativity are here to stay in the AEC industry and it’s remarkable that Vectorworks is staying at the forefront of these trends.”

Award winners are determined by voter submission and a panel of judges. Voters are encouraged to place their votes by Nov. 1 on the Construction Computing Awards website. Winners will be announced on Nov. 10 at the awards ceremony in London.
